DION

SHOW Synopsis

This series gives a first hand look into the fun, catty, and often times dramatic world of drag culture in small town America. These men not only strive to impersonate the physical beauty and demeanor of women, they also excel at embodying every single characteristic associated with the female gender – jealousy, manipulation, backstabbing, even erratic emotions. But because these divas are located in a small Texas border town, they have no choice but to stick together.

This group of drag “bad girls” is lead by Dion Summers, a Mexican-American head-turning beauty of a drag queen – and as Dion Luna the man, he is quite hot as well. Together with her entourage, which she continues to groom and mentor, Dion is determined to take the drag pageant circuit by storm and claim the title of Miss Texas once and for-all.

Dion

Whether it's trying out her new number at the local gay bar, crossing the border to Mexico teach a private class, or holding a car wash in drag to raise money for the next pageant - each week brings a new adventure towards the ultimate goal of knocking down the competition in drag, in cheer, in Texas and beyond.

DION LUNA:

How does Dion pay for his dragness? Dion the man works as a private dancer and cheer coach. He is highly sought after and known for getting results, thanks to his drill sergeant style - a trick he learned during his 2 years in the Marine Reserves. And if the drag scene is competitive, that's nothing compared to the Texas cheer world. And as expected, Dion is at the top.

Dion Summers:

Dion the woman has worked tirelessly at perfecting herself, which has gotten her to place in the top 5 in the Miss Texas Pageant. But as competitive as Dion is, this is not enough! She is determined to wear the winning crown and show all "the hoes in Mission, TX" that she is in fact, the best. Dion is the friend you love to hate. If this were high school, she would be the popular girl you made fun of but secretly wish you were in her shoes. There is no middle ground with Dion, she does whatever she wants and never apologizes.

DION'S Divas

Dion has carefully selected and personally molded her army of drag queens. And although she is hell bent on reigning supreme in the pageant world, Dion is constantly coaching and assisting her posse so that they walk, talk, and look as fierce as she does. Make-up lessons, style guides, power walking in heels, attitude tests - Dion rides these bitches hard! And as much as they hate her approach, they can't help but recognize that there is no one like Dion, and they are truly learning from the best around.

Jeffrey / Aniah

Newbie. New addition to Dion's circle of queens. Self proclaimed drag queen but hasn't performed on stage yet. Always assists Dion before performances and pageants.

Benji / Lady B

Airhead. She might not understand what you're talking about but she's great at pretending she does. Has been Dion's fan since the first time he saw her perform. Competes in pageants along with Dion.

Brian / Veronica

Work in progress. Ghetto fabulous. Although she's been performing for a few years, she needs Dion's divine touch to unleash her true potential. Competes in pageants along with Dion.

The regional drag pageant is one week away and Dion is feeling the pressure. Her new dresses aren't ready, neither are her new wigs, and she is still undecided on what to do for the talent portion of the competition. And to make matters worse, turns out Lady B has enrolled in the competition as well. Miss Dion better get her act together - in every way.

The cheer leading craze has spread to Mexico and Dion is going right along with it. A high school in Monterey, Mexico - just a two-hour drive from Dion's home - has recruited him to choreograph their latest routine. At night, Dion checks out the local drag scene, meets some amazing ladies, and picks-up some great ideas for his act.

It's time for Aniah to pop her drag cherry and get on stage to perform. You only have one chance to make a good first impression and Dion has been working tirelessly on getting her ready, but Aniah is a nervous wreck. Dion doesn't care - she better get it together or both of their reputations will be on the line.
